

TALK TIME
BOSTON, MA

Welcome to Talk Time

WE'RE SO HAPPY YOU'RE HERE

Our philosophy

Your child is unique and deserves to have care that reflects that! At Talk Time Boston, we work to be culturally competent and neurodiversity affirming, looking for the individual strengths and interests that make each child special. We also work closely with families, offering flexibility and clear communication around all aspects of our care.

We use a strengths-based approach, building on what your child does well already to help them acquire new skills

We know that for the best outcomes, we need to let kids take the lead and focus on what is meaningful to them.

We also understand that being a parent is challenging, and families need flexibility and support.

We are passionate about educating our clients and their families about communication and empowering them to feel confident.

We continually educate ourselves and reference real data in order to make treatment decisions.

We believe you deserve prompt, clear, and transparent communication from us for both administrative and therapeutic purposes.

Alessandra Spaulding & Nicole Curtis

Executive Directors of Talk Time Boston